Messiah Lutheran Church seeks to be a welcoming community for all people. This includes people of every race, ability, sexual orientation and gender identity, ethnic background, economic grouping, religious affiliation, and political persuasion.

We do this simply because God created all people in God's own image and Christ Jesus came so all people might have abundant and eternal life.

We may not always be as welcoming as we should be, but this is our intention—all are welcome!

Beach Worship Is Back!

We’re heading back to the beach this summer—and you’re invited. On the first Sundays of July and August, and on Labor Day weekend, our 10:30 worship will take place at Clark Lambros Beach Park.

Mark your calendars:

• July 6 • August 3 • August 31

Bring a chair, bring a friend, and come ready to worship with sand between your toes and Lake Superior as our chancel. There’s nothing quite like singing, praying, and sharing communion with the waves rolling in.

If the weather doesn’t cooperate, we’ll be in the sanctuary like usual. But here’s hoping for sunshine and a light breeze!

Book Study on The Ungrateful Refugee – July 14

Monday, July 14th, 7:00 pm - Atrium

“Every day of her new life, the refugee is asked to differentiate herself from the opportunist.” —
Dina Nayeri

Join us for a timely and moving book study on The Ungrateful Refugee by Dina Nayeri. With honesty and depth, Nayeri weaves her own story of fleeing Iran with the lives of others displaced around the world—revealing what it means to seek safety, navigate suspicion, and search for belonging.

Together we’ll explore themes of identity, hospitality, resilience, and faith. This book doesn’t offer easy answers—but it does offer an invitation: to listen, reflect, and see with new eyes. Whether you read often or are picking up your first book in a while, all are welcome. Guided discussions will help us wrestle with complex questions and connect them to our call as people of faith.

Copies of the book available in the church office have sold out.

Sunday School Families Evening Out – July 25

This summer there will be a fun gathering at the home of Jen Bleckiner, who teaches 3 year olds through kindergarten. Join our teachers and other families for a fun evening with a bonfire, swimming, dinner and s'mores at their house. July 25th from 5:00 – 7:30 at 545 Fisher Street. Rain date will be August 1st. You are invited to bring a side dish or dessert.

Pastor Molly's Maternity Leave

Messiah's parental leave policy is for 12 weeks of leave. Pr. Molly started her leave on Monday, June 16th & is taking 10 full weeks off. She will then return on Monday, August 25th and take the next 4 weeks half time, being in the office on Tuesday/Thursday each week and weekends until September 21st. She will be back full-time starting Monday, September 22nd.

Bowls for a Cause

Turned Wooden Bowls are available for a donation to the community assistance fund. They are located next to the homemade jams in the narthex. All bowls are homemade and are finished with a food safe finish. If you have questions about the bowls they can be directed to Paul Carstens at pcarsten@alumni.nmu.edu.

Messiah's Community Assistance Fund

A mid-year update on our assistance fund. Our dedicated group of volunteers - Mary Lou Bloomquist, Bill Davis, Mike Coyne, Laurel Kniskern, and Pam Christiansen - graciously give of their time throughout the week to see up to 12-15 people and help them with their needs. We most often give money for utilities, rent, medical bills, car insurance/repairs, and bus tickets. We are six months out from Giving Tuesday where we raise the majority of the monetary resources for the assistance fund, but with our calculations and the potential of cuts to social services, we expect that we will run out of funds well before then. I am asking for you to think about contributing at this time of the year if you have some extra funds to give. This ministry is essential to our community, it not only helps people with bills but it allows us to show God's love and care to those who are most in need.

How can you help?

- Donate to the assistance fund!
- Bring in food for our small pantry - especially things that are easy to prepare like chili, cereals, pastas and sauce, etc. When bringing canned goods, check for an easy open top.
- Do you know of other organizations in the area that help people? Let us know so that we can expand the help each person is receiving.

- Do you know of any grants we could apply for?

Senior Men's Ministry

Messiah's Senior Men's Bible Study has been meeting every Friday morning at 9:00 am in room #202. Please join them on Friday morning (except for Friday, July 4; no Bible study that day because it's a holiday).

Knotty Knitters

The Knotty Knitters will continue to meet at Messiah on the 2nd & 4th Tuesday of each month. The knitters typically meet in Magnuson Hall but occasionally meet in the atrium. They do join one another for lunch at Vangos prior to coming to Messiah. Please contact Shelly Johnson for more information.

In The Hospital

Please inform the church office when you are hospitalized. Pr. Andrew Plocher would like to visit you when you are there. If you are unable to notify Messiah, please ask a family member to do so.

A/V Project Update: Let's Keep Going

Thanks to your generosity, we've already raised $12,000 toward our $30,000 goal to complete the next phase of A/V improvements at Messiah. These upgrades will make our worship more accessible for those with hearing aids, improve sound in shared spaces like the atrium and nursery, refresh Magnuson Hall's system, and strengthen our internet & streaming capacity. With matching funds approved by Church Council, every dollar you give is doubled—bringing us even closer to the finish line.

Let's keep going. Let's finish what we started—together.

2025 Jam

21 years ago Kathy Soltwisch started what she called Jam Ministry. She wanted to give back from God's abundance. She decided to make her jams and give them to the church. The entire income from the sales were to go to the then pastoral discretionary fund to help those less fortunate. Over the years you have generously helped by donating some of your berry picking, sugar and pectin. Most important you have purchased the jam & her Grandma Pickles. Last year Rebecca Ulland joined Grant in keeping Jam ministry going. We hope to continue the effort to help raise money for the Messiah's assistance fund this way. Rhubarb & strawberry jams will soon appear on the shelves. In the mean time take advantage of the reduced price of our 2024 jams.

Brookridge Worship

Our worship service at Brookridge is held on the 2nd & 4th Wednesday at 1:30 pm. Several of our members live there & attend our service regularly. In addition, members of other faith communities join us, making our attendance grow to about 20-25 on a given day. Our service includes hymns, confession, absolution, thanksgiving, psalms, scripture, a homily, Apostles' Creed and Holy Communion. It is a real worship service.

Worshipping with this congregation is a blessing. The singing is robust, the prayers are from the heart, communion and forgiveness is truly felt and the fellowship is sincere.

Asylum Family Update

For the past four years, our congregation has had the privilege of accompanying a family from Honduras as they sought asylum in the United States. This ministry has been possible because of the incredible generosity of our community—through financial support and, most especially, through the time and care offered by so many volunteers.

Recently, the family made the decision to relocate to Los Angeles, California. From the beginning, we understood that our role was one of accompaniment—that ultimately, the family would make choices that best serve their future. Still, their departure is a loss. It's especially hard not to have had the chance to say goodbye together as a congregation.

While their move means our physical and day-to-day support has come to an end, we will continue to uphold the legal support already in process as part of their asylum journey. Please know that your pastors, along with the Task Force that has walked closely with the family, are holding this transition with both tenderness and hope.

We invite your prayers—for the family as they begin a new chapter in Los Angeles, and for our congregation as we hold both grief and gratitude: sorrow in their leaving, and joy in their continued independence and strength.

In July, we'll be sharing a letter with more details about how the family is doing and how we can find meaningful closure as a congregation. Until then, thank you for being a part of this sacred journey of accompaniment.

Summer Generosity Matters

Summer brings a welcome change of pace—time for rest, travel, and renewal. But while many of us shift into vacation mode, the ministry of the church continues in full swing. From worship and music to outreach and care, our shared mission doesn't take a break.

Historically, summer is a time when financial giving dips, simply because routines change. Yet your consistent generosity helps sustain the work we've committed to together. Whether it's supporting local food programs, keeping our building cool and welcoming, or planning for fall ministries, every gift matters.

If you're traveling, consider setting up automatic giving or making a one-time summer offering to keep momentum strong. Your support ensures that we remain a steady presence of hope and hospitality—even when calendars get full and rhythms shift.

Let's continue to be faithful stewards in every season, trusting that God multiplies even the simplest gifts offered in love.

What is Centering Prayer?

Centering prayer is a form of silent prayer that emphasizes resting in God's presence through silence and a sacred word. It involves finding a quiet space, sitting comfortably, and focusing on a chosen word to help maintain stillness and let go of thoughts. The goal is to cultivate a deeper relationship with God through stillness and receptivity. Several members of Messiah lead groups that practice this form of prayer throughout the week as a piece of their faith life. -

- Pr. Molly Hunter

Centering Prayer

I've practiced meditation now for 37 years. I began when I was struggling with the stresses of daily living. Later, I used meditation not only to deal with stress, but with physical issues (no doubt exacerbated by stress). After many years of practice on my own, I decided to attend a Buddhist retreat because those Buddhists sure knew how to meditate and I wanted to make sure I was doing it "right."

Long story short, I make it a priority to attend one retreat per year. At a retreat, the world is placed in the background. My basic need for food and shelter is provided and all the time is spent in prayer.

Prayer has really changed for me. No longer do I pray for specifics, because I have come to learn that what I think I want and what I truly want do not always match. God knows exactly what I want, and what I need to make it in this world, and when I practice 'being still' I allow that wisdom to arrive. Since I am not relying on any other person to tell me how to get what I want, but rather I am trusting in the “Advocate” to guide me, the things that are revealed to me are customized for my own personal growth and also so God’s Will can be done.

For some people who practice meditation, blissful spiritual experiences happen, but most sincere spiritual teachers warn that this is not the goal and often becomes a hindrance towards continued spiritual growth. It never has happened for me and I believe this is because if it had, I would be chasing that experience again for the remainder of my life. Instead, I have found that wisdom comes to me in insights, not while I am meditating, but in day-to-day life.. The longer I practice this form of prayer, the more I see that everything that happens in life has the potential to teach me.

Now, in my old age, I recognize the value of being still and welcoming God’s Presence. I start to believe that I am loved and accompanied by God in all situations. I realize that God is removing false identities from me, and giving me a new vision of my fellow humans. I understand that it is only Divine Love that ever heals. More and more, with faithful practice, I receive God’s grace and then am able to surprise myself when that grace comes forth for me to give to others.

If you are interested in practicing Centering Prayer, we meet in room 202 on the following days:

Tuesdays at 11:00 am -20-minute centering prayer practice with Lectio Divina

A Daily Guide for July

July 1 – Begin Again

Let today be a creative threshold. Ask: What can I co-create with God this month that brings hope or justice into the world?

July 2 – A Prayer for Justice

Pray: “God of righteousness, stir my heart for what is good and fair. Let my life reflect your justice and mercy.”

July 3 – Doodle Hope

Take five minutes to sketch, doodle, or scribble whatever comes to mind when you think of hope. Let it be messy and free.

July 4 – Reflect on Freedom

As you mark this day, reflect on the meaning of true freedom—not just for some, but for all.

Pray: “God of liberation, help me use my freedom not for comfort or silence, but for compassion and courage. Teach me to seek justice in love.”

July 5 – Create Something New

Bake, build, write, plant, or paint. Let your creativity be a quiet resistance to despair.

July 6 – Pray with Your Hands

Engage in a hands-on task—gardening, kneading dough, folding laundry—as a form of prayer. Let every motion become a sacred rhythm.

July 7 – Listen Deeply

Seek out a story you don’t usually hear. Listen to a podcast, read a book, or watch a documentary from a different perspective.

July 8 – Write a Justice Haiku

Write a short poem about justice, mercy, or hope in haiku form. Even a few words can move hearts.

July 9 – Celebrate Progress

Notice a way the world has changed for the better—big or small. Give thanks for those who made that change possible.

July 10 – Plant Hope

Plant wildflower seeds or herbs, either in your yard, a pot, or a community space. Trust that small actions bloom.

July 11 – Name What Breaks Your Heart

Write down a justice issue or need that burdens you. Offer it to God, and ask what small role you might play in healing it.

July 12 – Joy Is Resistance

Do something joyful today on purpose. Dance, laugh, sing, or play. Let your joy stand as a defiant act of hope.

July 13 – Create Space

Declutter a corner of your life—your home, schedule, or inbox. Make room for what really matters.

July 14 – Honor a Changemaker

Reach out to someone who works for justice or healing and thank them. A note or kind word can be fuel for their journey.

July 15 – Scripture of Creative Justice

Read Amos 5:24 – “But let justice roll down like waters, and righteousness like an ever-flowing stream.” Reflect on how you might be part of that flow.

July 16 – Gratitude for Mentors

Pray for mentors and role models. Honor those who have shaped you with love and integrity.

July 17 – Make Art with Children

If you can, spend time creating with a child—coloring, crafting, imagining. See the world through their lens of wonder and hope.

July 18 – Pray with Movement

Take a walk, stretch, or do yoga as a way of praying. Let your body carry your hopes and petitions.

July 19 – Pray for Repair

Hope and justice begin with truth. Take time today to learn about a harm—historic or ongoing—in your community or country. Ask God to show you what repair might look like, and how you might be part of it.

July 20 – Midyear Check-In

We’re halfway through the year. Ask: What’s growing in me? What needs to be pruned or planted?

July 21 – Bless the Light

Step into the sunlight and bless the warmth. Say, “God, thank you for the light within and around me.”

July 22 – Create a Visual Prayer

Use images, magazine clippings, or found objects to make a collage prayer. Let your creativity express your longings.

July 23 – Pay Attention to Injustice

Notice one injustice in your community today. What do you see that others might ignore? Ask God how you might respond.

July 24 – Bless the Artists

Pray for artists, poets, and creators who help us see truth and beauty. May their work challenge, comfort, and inspire.

July 25 – Reach Out Across Difference

Connect with someone whose background, politics, or worldview differs from yours. Approach with curiosity and grace.

July 26 – Sabbath of the Imagination

Take a break from your usual routines and do something playful or spontaneous. Let your soul breathe.

July 27 – Hope in Scripture

Read 2 Corinthians 4:8–9: “We are afflicted in every way, but not crushed... struck down, but not destroyed.” Let this truth steady your heart.

July 28 – Invite Collaboration

Ask someone to join you in a creative or justice-focused act. Hope grows when we don’t go it alone.

July 29 – Share a Story

Tell a story—your own or someone else’s—that reflects resilience, grace, or redemption. Stories keep hope alive.

July 30 – Pray for Co-Creation

Pray: “God of imagination and justice, shape my heart for your work. Help me co-create a world where all can flourish. Amen.”

July 31 – Give Thanks for the Journey

Take time to reflect on how you’ve grown this month. Give thanks for each step, each effort, each breath of hope.

Your Prayer Requests at Messiah

The card asks people to put their prayer requests on the back, and these requests are prayed for every Tuesday morning at Messiah's staff meeting. If you wish to have your name or a loved one's name read during worship, please call the office or let the pastors or Jen know. We will need to get permission before we include anyone's name in the worship prayers.

Iconography: Painting as a Spiritual Practice – October 13-18

Iconography is an ancient Christian tradition where painting becomes a form of prayer. More than just creating art, it's a spiritual practice—slow, reflective, and deeply rooted in centuries of sacred storytelling. Through color, shape, and tradition, icons invite us to see with new eyes and connect with the divine in a hands-on, meaningful way.

This 6-day workshop in October, led by a teacher from the Prosopon School, offers a unique chance to step into this sacred art form. It's open to anyone—no art experience needed. The workshop is an investment of both time and resources, but full details (including cost and registration) are available online.

The workshop will be held at St. Louis the King Catholic Church (264 Silver Creek Rd. in Marquette). For more information n, contact Mary Jane Lynch 906 360-5279 or maryjanelynch62@yahoo.com.

There are no income guidelines. Assistance can be for travel expenses, insurance co-pay, medical bills & medications related to cancer care. This organization is all volunteer based. Money to support is from fundraising, grants and donations. This organization is a 501c3 group so donations are tax deductible. But I cannot emphasize enough....to CALL if you need help.
