An Invitation to Advent

Advent begins Sunday, November 30

"Even one step with shaking knees is a step toward home." — Rev. Sarah (Are) Speed

As the nights stretch longer and the world quiets down, Advent returns — not with answers, but with an invitation: to pay attention. To notice where fear meets longing, where grief brushes against hope, where something holy still flickers in the dark.

This is a season for honest faith. We won't pretend all is calm or bright - we know better than that. The headlines, the heaviness, the heartache are all real. And yet, so is the promise that love takes flesh even in the most unlikely places.

So, we will gather — not to escape the world, but to face it with open eyes and open hearts.

To light candles precisely because the night is long.

To tell old stories that still have power.

To listen for angels, even if they sound more like our neighbors.

To practice courage, joy, and tenderness in community.

Come as you are:

with your doubts and your to-do lists,

your questions and your quiet hopes,
your yearning for something more whole, more just, more true.
Come and walk with us toward the manger — toward the mystery that God is still showing up in this world, still choosing human form,
still whispering, “Do not be afraid.”

Advent begins the weekend of November 29/30. Let's make room — for hope, for each other, for the holy — together.

Help with Communion Setup

We are looking for volunteers who would be willing to set up communion for the 8:30 am service and then reset for the 10:30 am service on Sundays. Larry Pagel did this every week for many years but he has moved to Iowa. We will provide training. We would set up the schedule for the month and ask a different volunteer to do communion set up each Sunday. It takes 10-15 minutes to set up communion before the 8:30 am service and 10-15 minutes to reset after the 8:30 am service is over. If you are interested in helping out or if you know someone who might, please let me know. Thanks. Kathy

Book Study: Praying Like Monks, Living Like Fools – December 8

What - An Invitation to the Wonder and Mystery of Prayer

When - Monday, December 8th, 7:00 pm in the Atrium

In a world that often feels chaotic, prayer can begin to feel like a distant or fragile practice. Tyler Staton's Praying Like Monks, Living Like Fools invites us back to the heart of it—not as a task to master, but as a relationship to enter. Drawing on ancient Christian practices and everyday experiences, Staton helps us rediscover prayer as both wonder and grounding presence.

We'll gather for a conversation exploring how prayer can meet us in seasons of weariness, uncertainty, and hope. This is not a lecture but an open, honest space to reflect, question, and imagine new rhythms of prayer together.

All are welcome—whether prayer is a daily practice or something that feels far away right now. Books are available in the church office for $10.

This Advent: Preparing Your Heart for Hope

This year we will explore how we work our way through fear and prepare our hearts for the hope of the gospels in this season leading up to Jesus' birth. Luke's Gospel begins the story of Jesus with this opening line: "In the time of Herod..." This detail may seem minor to modern readers; however, it reveals layers of information about the fearful world Jesus entered, one filled with rampant oppression, economic disparity, uncertainty, and instability. A world not so unlike our own. And yet, throughout the stories of Christ's birth, the whispers of angels deliver a surprising message: "Do not fear." In our own time, we might ask: is it even possible to be fearless in a fearful world? When Mary, Joseph, the shepherds, and the magi are each called into God's redemptive story, they do not deny their fears—they move through them. They ask questions, hold fast to courage, trust in good news, and say, "Here I am, Lord." When we find ourselves in fearful times, can we acknowledge our fears while also insisting on hope? We've crafted an Advent series that takes seriously the angels' message and trusts that Christ's birth truly is good news of great joy for all people. – Taken from "A Sanctified Art"

Mark your calendars for Advent events and be sure to grab a devotional from the welcome table outside of the church office.

Together for Good: A Season of Generosity (That's Still Growing!)

Commitment Sunday may have come and gone, but the spirit of stewardship at Messiah is still very much alive. We are so grateful for every household that has submitted a plan for giving and shared your time and talents for the year ahead. Your commitments—of finances, time, and gifts—are building up our shared ministry in beautiful, meaningful ways.

And if you haven't had a chance to participate yet, there's still time. Together for Good reminds us that generosity is not about perfection, but about movement—forward, together, in faith. Growth looks different for each of us, but even small steps make a difference when we take them together.

Ways to Grow in Generosity

- Make giving a regular habit by setting up automated online donations
- Try an extra one-time gift when you're able
- Increase your giving by a small percentage
- Explore new ways to share your time and talents

Facing Financial Challenges?

If your circumstances have changed, your giving might need to as well—and that's okay. Consider giving a consistent percentage of your income, even if the total amount is smaller. What matters is a spirit of faithfulness and intention.

Together, we are building a church and a community that will be here for good. Let's keep growing, giving, and showing up for one another—together for good.

Need a commitment form or help setting up online giving? Forms can be found online, but for questions please contact the church office.

--- In gratitude, Messiah's Stewardship Team

Coats for 'Cats – Winter Drive for NMU Students

The '90s are back, vintage is in, and your old winter coat might just be the coolest thing a college student wears this year (while staying warm, of course). Let your past be someone else's present—literally!

We're collecting lightly used, clean, and winter-ready coats, hats, mittens/gloves & snowpants for Northern Michigan University students now through November 23rd. Drop yours in the bin in the narthex and give the gift of warmth. Thanks for spreading the love (and the layers)!

Thanksgiving Potluck – November 27

Prince of Peace Lutheran Church will have its 3rd Annual Thanksgiving potluck at 1:00 pm on Thursday, November 27 (Thanksgiving Day). All are welcome.

We will provide the turkey and ham, dressing, mashed potatoes & gravy, and rutabaga. Coffee, tea, and water, too. We are asking for the following: other sides, desserts, salads, bread/rolls.

A Daily Guide for November 2025

November 1 – All Saints Day

Light a candle and remember those who've shaped your faith and your story. Say their names aloud. Prayer: "God of all generations, thank you for the saints who carried your light. Let their love live on in us."

November 2 – Letting Go

What do you need to release this season—an expectation, a fear, a grief? Offer it to God. You don't have to carry it alone.

November 3 – A Prayer for the Heavyhearted

Pray for those who find these darker months difficult—those grieving, isolated, or struggling. Ask God to be a quiet companion for them.

November 4 – Before Sunrise

When you wake in the dark, resist the urge to rush. Light a lamp, a candle, or sit near a window. Let the darkness be a place where God meets you.

November 5 – Together for Good

Reflect: What does it mean to live "together for good" in this season? Where are you seeing that hope take shape?

November 6 – Scripture of Endurance

Read Romans 5:3–5 – "Suffering produces endurance... and hope does not disappoint." Where has hope held you steady in the past?

November 7 – A Small Act of Hope

Do something hopeful today—light a candle, write a note, make a plan. Small gestures can hold big weight in dark months.

November 8 – Share a Memory

Call or write to someone and share a story from years past. Memory can warm the cold edges of the day.

November 9 – Watch the Wind

Look out at the movement of snow, branches, or water today. Let it remind you that unseen things can still be powerful.

November 10 – Pray for Helpers

Pray for those who serve others in the cold: caregivers, shelter staff, hospitalworkers, teachers, and volunteers.

November 11 – Stewarding Peace (Veterans Day)

Pray for veterans and for peace in every sense—global, communal, personal. Hope often begins with peace.

November 12 – Candle Prayer

Before bed, light a candle. Sit quietly. Let its glow be your prayer: flickering, faithful, enough.

November 13 – Quiet Gratitude

Name three ordinary things you're thankful for on a cold day—a warm blanket, a working furnace, a neighbor's kindness.

November 14 – Stay Connected

Reach out to someone who might be feeling winter's early isolation. A simple check-in can be a lifeline.

November 15 – Scripture of Light

Read John 1:5 – “The light shines in the darkness, and the darkness did not overcome it.” Let that truth steady you.

November 16 – Create a Winter Corner

Set aside a small, warm corner for prayer or quiet: a lamp, a chair, a cup of something hot. Let it be a refuge.

November 17 – Speak a Blessing

Offer this aloud to someone—or whisper it to yourself: “May you be held. May you find light. May you know you are not alone.”

November 18 – Remember the Forgotten

Pray for those unsheltered or vulnerable in the cold. Ask God to stir your heart toward tangible care and communal hope.

November 19 – Generosity in Small Things

Buy someone a warm drink, donate socks or gloves, send a card. Small acts of warmth carry great weight this time of year.

November 20 – Honor Grief

Name something—or someone—you've lost. Sit with it. Light a candle in remembrance. God meets us in the shadows.

November 21 – Watch the Sky

The U.P. sky holds its own kind of beauty—gray, heavy, clear, or starlit. Notice it tonight. Let it remind you of vastness and wonder.

November 22 – Offer Your Hands

Shovel a walk, deliver soup, hold a door. Stewardship is also what we do with our bodies.

November 23 – Scripture of Belonging

Read Isaiah 43:1 – “I have called you by name, you are mine.” Let that promise wrap around you like a warm coat.

November 24 – Reconnect

Reach out to someone you've drifted from. Even a short message can be a light in a long night.

November 25 – Thank Your Body

Your body has carried you through cold mornings, icy sidewalks, and the weight of days. Offer thanks—not for perfection, but for endurance.

November 26 – Make Space for Gratitude

Prepare for Thanksgiving by making room—clearing clutter, softening your heart, pausing long enough to notice.

November 27 – Thanksgiving Day

Pause. Breathe. Give thanks—to God, to those around the table (or screen), to the land beneath the snow. Prayer: “Generous God, thank you for grace that finds us in winter’s chill, in warm hands, and in bread we share.”

November 28 – Rest in the Quiet

The day after a holiday can feel still and heavy. Don't rush to fill it. Let quiet be a gift, not a void.

November 29 – Begin Again

As Advent nears, ask: What hope am I carrying into the new season? Write it down. Keep it close.

November 30 – First Sunday of Advent

Light the first candle. Pray: “God of hope, awaken us again. Let your light rise in the darkness, and in us.” We wait together—not for easy answers, but for the light that always comes.

Book Study: Praying Like Monks, Living Like Fools

What - An Invitation to the Wonder and Mystery of Prayer

When - Monday, December 8th, 7:00 pm in the Atrium

In a world that often feels chaotic, prayer can begin to feel like a distant or fragile practice.

Tyler Staton's Praying Like Monks, Living Like Fools invites us back to the heart of it—not as a task to master, but as a relationship to enter. Drawing on ancient Christian practices and everyday experiences, Staton helps us rediscover prayer as both wonder and grounding presence.

We'll gather for a conversation exploring how prayer can meet us in seasons of weariness, uncertainty, and hope. This is not a lecture but an open, honest space to reflect, question, and imagine new rhythms of prayer together.

All are welcome—whether prayer is a daily practice or something that feels far away right now. Books are available in the church office for $10.

What is Centering Prayer?

Centering prayer is a form of silent prayer that emphasizes resting in God's presence through silence and a sacred word. It involves finding a quiet space, sitting comfortably, and focusing on a chosen word to help maintain stillness and let go of thoughts. The goal is to cultivate a deeper relationship with God through stillness and receptivity. Several members of Messiah lead groups that practice this form of prayer throughout the week as a piece of their faith life. - Pr. Molly Hunter

Meditation (Centering Prayer) and Contemplation

Christian mysticism has traditionally made a very clear distinction between meditation and contemplation. Put simply, meditation is what we are able to accomplish on our own, while contemplation is what comes as sheer gift. Meditation includes all the acts and exercises of prayer and spiritual practice—the things one does intentionally. In contrast, contemplation cannot be practiced. Contemplation is entirely God's gift of grace. There is no way to make it happen. It cannot be achieved or acquired. It happens when it happens, and all we can do is be willing, say yes to it, welcome it.

Teresa of Avila likens the human soul to a garden, with God dwelling in the center. The garden contains many exquisite flowers which she says are the virtues. It is only natural that we would want our soul-garden to be beautifully cultivated and fragrant so that God will take delight among these virtues.

The beginning soul-gardener need not worry about tilling the ground, planting seeds, or even uprooting weeds, because God has already done these things by the time a soul is determined to practice prayer. Too much concern over virtues and vices may distract us from our primary task in tending the garden, which is only to see that the garden receives sufficient water. For Teresa, the water is nothing other than prayer, and prayer is nothing other than loving attentiveness.

Teresa describes four degrees of watering. The first degree is meditation; the other three are deepening dimensions of contemplation in which the person's sense of autonomous effort in prayer is increasingly replaced by a feeling of God's deep and obscure divine activity.

The first way of watering the garden is by hauling the water from a well in a bucket. This is meditation—a great labor that provides very little water. Still, it helps the virtues sprout. The second way is by means of a waterwheel, which is less work and gives more water. This is the prayer of quiet, the beginning of contemplation, and it brings the virtues to bud. In the third way, a nearby spring does most of the watering naturally. The gardener needs only to supplement it occasionally. This third prayer brings the virtues to flower. In the fourth way, rain waters the garden. This is the prayer of union, where there is no effort on the person's part at all, and the virtues bear fruit.

Teresa's degrees of prayer are not to be understood as occurring in a strictly linear way. They continually overlap and recur in cycles. The different kinds of prayer mix with each other and are not steady states but rather experiences that happen intermittently in prayer. No one, Teresa says, can predict when or how the contemplative degrees of prayer will be experienced. Relinquish all attempts to achieve more advanced states of prayer. The important thing is not to think much, but to love much. From The Dark Night of the Soul by Gerald May

We meet on Tuesdays from 11:00 am - 12:00 pm to practice centering prayer—the first step towards contemplation and follow this with Lectio Divina. All are welcome. Come when you are able.

Each session stands on its own. - - - Nancy Hamlin

WE'VE REACHED OUR FUNDRAISING GOAL!

With a few things yet to be tallied, our tentative total is $26,949!

THANK YOU to all who participated in any way: quilters and crafters, bakers, bidders, donors, and all participants.

Giving Tuesday at Messiah: Support the Community Assistance Fund - December 2

Tuesday, December 2 from 11:00 am – 6:00 pm

This Giving Tuesday, December 2 from 11:00 am – 6:00 pm, we invite you to stop by Messiah for a day of generosity, community, and compassion in action. We'll have lunch and snacks available, and all are welcome to stay, connect, and enjoy fellowship as we come together to support our Community Assistance Fund.

This vital fund—entirely supported by donations and a few small grants—is not part of our church budget, yet it is one of the most impactful ways we serve our neighbors. By year's end, it will have provided over $50,000 in emergency assistance to more than 500 individuals & families right here in our community.

These funds help people caught in the gaps—those facing urgent needs like rent, utilities, medical bills, transportation, and more. When no other help is available, the Community Assistance Fund often becomes a lifeline.

Your presence and your gifts help ensure that this ministry of mercy and justice continues. Whether you stop by for a bite, drop off a donation, or stay and visit—we're grateful to be in this work with you.

Additionally, if you cannot join us on the 2nd, gifts can also be made online at messiahlutheranmqt.org/give or via Venmo @messiahlutheranmqt.

Let's give generously. Let's give hope.

The CROP Walk held on October 12 raised $6,926.00. Messiah raised $350 of this total. Thanks to all who helped in any way.

Thank you from the Quilters

The Messiah Quilters would like to thank the Church Council and the Congregation for the grant to purchase two new sewing machines. Also, thank you for your donations of sheets and fabric. And a big thank you to Jennifer & Jeff Dodge for setting up/taking down our heavy,

Thank you from our Global Mission Team

Thank you! From September 19 to October 1, Messiah Lutheran hosted nine members of our companion congregation, Azania Front, from Dar es Salaam, Tanzania. Our guests were diverse in age, education, and personal interests, but they all shared two things in common: a passionate love for God, and a desire to know our church family. Our Messiah community met them with arms and hearts open wide. We thank each of you for your participation, prayers, and financial gifts that made this visit a stunning success. We were blessed to share meals, conversation, tours, and laughter with our new sisters and brothers in Christ. Their visit was a needed reminder of our connections with people throughout the world, and the wondrous ways God touches our lives. Your Global Mission Team is excited to further strengthen our connections with both Tanzania & Colombia in the years to come. Asante sana!

Hildegarde-Johnson Music Scholarship Recipients

We are delighted to announce the recipients of this year's Hildegarde Johnson Music Scholarship. Hildegarde was a longtime member of Messiah, a gifted choir director, and a woman whose passion for music and education shaped generations. In her honor, this scholarship supports children and youth in our congregation as they explore music through lessons, camps, instruments, and other opportunities.

This year's recipients are:

- Aegis MacIvor-Anderson
- Simeon MacIvor-Anderson
- Levin MacIvor-Anderson
- Sophie Sander
- Camden Fitzpatrick
- Sarah Bleckiner

We celebrate these young musicians and look forward with joy to hearing their gifts shared in worship in the months ahead. Through their learning and music-making, Hildegarde's legacy of faith, song, and love for community lives on.

2025 Ecumenical Statement on Hunger Justice

In addition to supporting this year's CROP Walk, there is one more powerful step you can help with: signing the 2025 Ecumenical Statement on Hunger Justice. It is a bold declaration from Church World Service that says hunger isn't just a problem, it's a justice issue.

To sign, go to <https://cwsconnect.org/hunger-statement/>. It takes 30 seconds to sign and sends a powerful message.

And what does the Lord require of you but to do justice, to love kindness and to walk humbly with your God? (Micah 6:8 NRSVUE)

WHAT WE BELIEVE

Hunger is an affront to justice. Today, although food is abundant in our country and our world, hunger is surging in communities near and far – driven by conflict, climate-fueled disasters, failing economies and unjust policies that have undermined the safety nets so many of our neighbors rely on to survive.

But it doesn't have to be this way.

As people of faith, our vision is a world where everyone has access to enough nutritious food to thrive. We believe that, by standing shoulder to shoulder, our vision can become reality, around the corner and around the world.

Hunger is deeply tied to other injustices. Across the globe, it robs millions of people of health and opportunity – especially those who lack access to clean water and safe sanitation. Hunger disproportionately affects refugees and immigrants, families recovering from disasters, people experiencing homelessness and others whose voices are too often ignored or silenced. But by bringing together our skills, experience and passion to this vital shared mission, we can heed God's call "to loose the bonds of injustice...to let the oppressed go free, to break every yoke and to share your bread with the hungry." (Isaiah 58:7).

Through this Ecumenical Statement on Hunger Justice, we are answering the scriptural call to "Love your neighbor as yourself" (Mark 12:31) to ensure all have what they need to thrive. We pledge to be the neighbor that everyone in our world deserves so that no one goes hungry in a nation and world of such plenty. In faith and solidarity, Your signature.

Little Brothers Friends of the Elderly – Holiday Sponsorships

Share the gift of joy and friendship this holiday season.

As the snow begins to fall and families gather around warm meals, many of our elderly neighbors face the holidays alone. But with your help, we can change that.

At Little Brothers – Friends of the Elderly, we believe no one should feel forgotten, especially during the holidays. With the help of our compassionate volunteers, we deliver more than just food – we deliver, love, laughter, and connection.

Each meal is lovingly prepared, decorated with handmade crafts and cards, topped with a fresh flower, and delivered by a volunteer who brings warmth and companionship to the doorstep. For those who can join us in person, we offer transportation to our festive meal site at The Marquette Elks Lodge where hugs and heartfelt conversations are always served.

Your sponsorship helps ensure that no Marquette County senior spends the holidays alone. It's not just a meal, it's a moment of joy, a reminder that someone cares.

Grandparent-Aged Allies for LGBTQ+ Community: Book and Conversation Club for 2025-2026

What is the Idea? A small group of grandparent-aged individuals gather eight times between October 2025 and May 2026 to explore the terrain of being an ally to the LGBTQ+ community in the Upper Peninsula.

What is Expected? To read two books which contain LGBTQ+ themes and using the books as a catalyst for conversation, to talk openly about the LGBTQ+ experience.

How often, where, and when will the meetings be? Gathering will be on the third Tuesday of the month at St. John’s Episcopal Church in Negaunee from 11:30 am to 1:00 pm. January’s gathering and May’s gathering will be at a different time and place and will involve a larger group of folks reading the same book. Details concerning these meetings are yet to be determined.

What is an Ally? An ally is someone who walks beside and stands up for another person. Allies continue to be curious and naturally seek out ways to be and stay informed. Allies are motivated by compassion. ALLYSHIP is something that can be learned.

What else do I need to know?

1. It only takes one caring and accepting adult to decrease an LGBTQ+ youth’s risk for suicide by 70%. It is possible to learn how to be that caring adult.

2. This Grandparent-Aged Ally group is part of the new iteration of last year's LGBTQ+ book conversation group. It is being spearheaded by Equality Michigan. Our partnership this year includes ELCA Lutheran Churches in Ishpeming St. John's Episcopal Church in Negaunee, and Equality Michigan.
 3. There will be delicious soup for lunch at each of these meetings.
 4. Our first meeting on October 21st will be a meet and greet: no reading will be necessary in advance of that meeting.
 5. Who do I contact to say that I am interested or for more information? You can contact Marna Franson: marna@upepiscopal.org or 906 458-6395.
